Yice-Pres. Side Wins Competition By a Margin of 2 Points

Coleman curlers to the number of sixteen rinks got away on the right foot on Monday evening when the local curling season was officially opened with the President vs. Vice-President competition.

Despite the sub-zero weather four splendid sheets of ice greeted the sixty-four devotees of stone and bream and all the sheets echoed to the roarin' game from 7 p.m. to midnight. After the smoke of battle had cleared away it was found that the side representing the doughty President had succeeded in the task of getting from the team of 68 points to 70. As the score indicates there was nothing to pick or choose between Sam's and Dad's boys.

The President and Vice-President rinks drew 11 all, and Chapman and Morrison also were level with 7 points each, and with the exception of a couple of games, there was very little difference in the scores. The Davidson, Kellock-Chapman, Young and Whiteside rinks were minus their regular make, nevertheless these rinks made a good showing.

Following is a list of rinks and scores:—

President	Vice President
G.R. Powell	11

R.G. Powell	8

Coldest Snap in Years Heavy Snow Fall and Wind

Last Friday night The Pass was treated to a real taste of a warm chinook wind that reached almost hurricane proportions during the night. The high wind accompanied by rain, did some damage to telephone and telegraph wires and also dislodged bricks from chimneys and accomplished other slight damages locally.

Early Saturday morning, the wind dropped and snow commenced to fall and continued all day while the wind veered to the East and the thermometer dropped to below zero on Sunday. Monday the glass registered 20 below and during the night continued to reced until it dipped to 38 below in Coleman. McLaren's Mill, which has the reputation of being the coldest spot in The Pass, reported 50 below on Monday night. This is the coldest weather experienced in this part of the country for many years.

Tuesday the wind changed to the West again and indications point to more moderate weather conditions for the balance of the week. The cold snap played havoc with the C.P.R. train schedule as the passenger from the East has been running from two to five hours late since last Friday, which would indicate that weather conditions on the prairie have been, if anything, more severe than that experienced locally.

West Coleman Merchant Holding Clearing-Out Sale

The Journal job department this week printed several hundred large sale bills announcing a big clearing out sale of dry goods, ladies and childrens wear, boots, shoes and rubbers, etc., for C. Calabro, a West Coleman merchant, who is clearing out this department of his business.

The sale commenced on Tuesday of this week, and will continue until all these lines are cleared out. Mr. Calabro is offering many good bargains and local buyers are well advised to read his bill carefully and take advantage of the bargains offered.

In looking at the master from this angle, it must be remembered that if the Town took over the rink the cost would be charged up to the taxpayers. The property owner would pay it all, and the larger part of our population—non-property holders—would escape cost free. From free skating it would only be the cost of the rink to be paid, and then when would only just be started on the free list. The chirokicker even then would cover some imaginary cause for criticism and start a tempest in a teapot.

It is very doubtful, under existing conditions, if season tickets and general admission can be lowered beyond this year's prices. Objection is taken to these prices by some and also to the additional charge on band nights. This latter difficulty is one that ticket holders and patrons can easily remedy. If the management finds that Saturday band nights are not popular, they do not need, will discontinue them, and ticket holders can then skate sideways a week without extra charge. This ought to give even a Jew good value for his money.

Skating hours in the afternoon is another matter that is causing some dissatisfaction. It has been suggested that something be done to change the hours from 3-5 to 4-6. This change could be accomplished by curtailing hockey practice. Three nights a week ought to be sufficient for senior hockey practice, especially after they commence playing league matches.

The rink management is doing everything possible to operate the rink in a business-like manner and striving to give the best service they can to the greatest number, but it is not human possibility to satisfy everybody. It's never been done.

Not confining its activities to its own membership, the Order of Elks, realizing the potency of well organized and well directed effort, reaches out into the community of which it is always an integral part, and by precept and example strives for better citizenship and a happier community.

Children are the wards of Elksdom. The Order of Elks realizes that the children of today are the citizens of tomorrow, and that to be good citizens they must be free from the restrictions of poverty, the darkness of ignorance, the burden of ill health and the penalties of bad environment.

In the final analysis the Elks are actuated by the thought—"He went about doing good."

Doors open 8.15. Concert commences at 8.30.

No children allowed unless accompanied by their parents.

Rink Management, Can't Please Everybody

Since the opening of the Coleman rink a little over a week ago, considerable criticism has been heard in regard to certain rules and regulations laid down by the management for the operation of the rink. Some of the criticism is fair, and on the other hand much is very unfair and destructive, and tends to destroy the spirit of the splendid community enterprise which the managers are giving their time gratis to maintain in our midst.

If an understanding of this kind is to be made self-supporting, sufficient revenue must be derived from its operation to at least meet overhead expenses. No individual, or company, can give free skating, free hockey matches, etc., to function as a separate institution.

The only way the rink could operate on a "free" basis would be for the Town of Coleman to take it over and charge the cost of purchase and operation up in taxes. We question very much if the Town could be induced to do this, and even if they did, it is doubtful if they could operate it as economically as is being done under private management.

In looking at the master from this angle, it must be remembered that if the Town took over the rink the cost would be charged up to the taxpayers. The property owner would pay it all, and the larger part of our population—non-property holders—would escape cost free. From free skating it would only be the cost of the rink to be paid, and then when would only just be started on the free list. The chirokicker even then would cover some imaginary cause for criticism and start a tempest in a teapot.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

At a meeting of the executive of the Town Planning Institute held at Ottawa, Horace L. Seymour, of Vancouver, B.C., was elected president.

Canada's national debt was increased $14,982,134 during November, according to a statement issued by the department of finance.

Before leaving for England His Royal Highness Prince George expressed the hope that he might accompany the Prince of Wales to Canada next year on the 50th anniversary of Confederation.

After a month's search the Sacred Host which at first was thought lost in the fire which destroyed the temporary basilica at Ste. Anne Beaupre, November 8, has been found and is very little damaged.

Joseph E. Stretter, United States member of the reparations commission, has resigned his post and will be succeeded by Pierre Jay, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

A serum to combat sleeping sickness has been developed at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington. A vaccine to strengthen the resistance following recovery from the primary stage of the disease also has been produced.

Mr. Davy, Minister of Finance, South Africa, said that the extent of his country's participation in war would depend upon the extent of her interest at the time, but that, subject to this understanding, it was the Government's policy to keep her military organization in harmony with that of Great Britain.

Will Not Contribute
Toward Singapore Base

Australia, New Zealand, and India Refuse Their Support

Definite intimation from Australia, New Zealand and India—the three British Dominions most interested from the point of view of their security—that they could not contribute toward the cost of the Singapore Naval Base, although they are interested in the affairs of the Imperial Conference on Imperial Defence, issued recent. As regards naval defence, it was evident from the statements of the different Prime Ministers that, while Australia was maintaining a small but efficient fleet and New Zealand will continue to keep up her own division of the British Navy, little or nothing could be expected from the other Dominions. They, however, are doing their best for the development of military and civil aviation.

Premier Bruce of Australia emphasized the primary obligation of each dominion to provide its own defence. There had been spent last year throughout the empire for defence he said, $2,500,000 per head by Great Britain, 27 by Australia, 13 by New Zealand, 6 by Canada and 2 shillings and sixpence by South Africa. He suggested that the equality status brought with it definite obligations that were not being met at the present by the parties affected.

Mr. Davy, Minister of Finance, South Africa, said that the extent of his country's participation in war would depend upon the extent of her interest at the time, but that, subject to this understanding, it was the Government's policy to keep her military organization in harmony with that of Great Britain.

At The End Of The Road

All One Wants is Quiet and Peace
says Clemenceau

Clemenceau of France, who, as "The Tiger," was the thundering voice of France during those red years he twice, 1914 and 1918, had a birthday.

He spent his birthday in work, telling with a translator over his new book, "Civilization."

And after hours of till he walked in the garden which he own old hands had dug and planned—smelling of his sense of a life violet and pansy, down through his garden to the sea, watching the breakers foam and beat on a white sand stretch.

Then "The Tiger" went to market, for his supper. Children hung on his arms and smiled at him as he bartered with one old woman—after another to the plumpest lobster, the最美妙的。

Once the thunder of all Europe, now the simplest among the simple, Clemenceau once with the power of diction in his voice, is supremely happy.

"It is only what we all want at the end of the road," he says—"quiet and peace."

No matter what power, what wealth, what success they achieve, most men, for little else than the end of the road, but a house and garden, children, a shady walk, library, and a little work.

Radio Ends Long Search

Friend of Son of Man Sought, Heard Appeal

A 20-year search covering the entire United States and parts of Latin America ended successfully at Cartagena, N.Y., where Mrs. Lena Scheweny received a letter from her long lost brother, Emil Glick, now a resident of Montreal.

After his brother and sister parted 30 years ago, and ten years later got out of touch with each other. Since then, Mrs. Scheweny has made every possible effort to locate Glick. Eight years ago word came of his death in western tornado, and the search lagged into a standstill.

Recently a radio appeal was heard by a veteran who recognized the name as that of a buddy during the war.

Through the veterans' bureau the soldier was found, and proved to be the son of the man sought. He notified his father, and Mrs. Scheweny received the first letter from her brother in 20 years.

President of 'Bank of Montreal
Believes Conditions Are Sound

Encouraging statement regarding the business conditions of Canada were made in Montreal at the 109th annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Montreal. Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., president, speaking of the upward trend of business in practically all lines of trade, remarked he could not see any indication that this period of prosperity was soon to be ended.

He believed the underlying conditions are sound, said Sir Vincent, "and that the future can be viewed with confidence."

World's Wheat Prize

Marquis Variety of Wheat Grown 400 Miles North of U.S. Boundary

When Herman Trele, of Wembly, Alberta, who was born 21 years ago at Keweenaw, Mich., was declared wheat king of the world at this year's International Grain and Hay Show at Chicago, it made the fourteenth time that the wheat championship has come to Canada in the sixteen years the International competition has been held. Last year it was won by L. P. Yates, of Flathead, Montana. Trele not only won the wheat crown at Chicago this year, but carried off the grand champion in each of the four classes, and also won the award for foreign grain from among them; "destroy the images and altars and groves of the gods worshipped by the nations of races of Canada."

"Their fruits ye shall know them—[Jesus]."

"And direct your hearts unto Jehovah, and serve him only; and I will deliver you from the hand of the Philistines."

"No man can serve two masters."

When the people had given signal proof of their sincerity by putting away the images and the altars of the gods which stand for the gods and goddesses of the Canaanites, Samuel summoned them to a great assembly gathering at Gilgal for a season of tasting, prayer and confession.

"For everything there is a season, a time for every purpose under heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up; a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up; CHAPTER XXII.

Gossip

The dressing of Joanna Manners, each morning, when that young person endeavored to put herself into the hands of her maid, was an important ceremony. It was not a matter for Martha, alone. Martha had ceased to be the ever dependable, ever patient, personal servitor. Capable fingers were required for the toilet rituals of one who was now a regal beauty.

Even riding togs needed Celeste and Marie. Celeste knew every wave and curl and vagrancy of the slimming brown hair, and the precise point in which the tips must arch and retreat. Marie was encyclopedic of what went with what, and when, an ensemble was worthy of its details. Between the predictions of both, then their misfires, found ample time, each morning, to scan her dainty portion of mail.

Always, of course, there were cards from couturiers, from jewelers, milliners and florists. To be a purveyor to the needs of the Mademoiselle Joanna was, none, the Riviera. It was Marie's duty to put all bills in a bunch, when her mistress had given at those cards, and to lay them aside in New York. Celeste watched over the engagements her mistress made, and was in a hopeless mess over them. Once, when she was in such dismay, that she pleaded with her mistress for help, Joanna told her: "You must learn, Celeste, that I am not to be asked to do anything I say I'll do, it would be thoroughly impossible."

She did. Celeste waited on the apologetic maid of Villa Amette. Celeste and Marie prepared her for her riding togs and Joanna can her mounting's pour through her fingers. Once' her letters interested her. When she came to this one she dropped the others into a tray held by Marie, and put the one onto her dressing table.

She would put it aside until her maid were finished with her, or until she could dismiss whoever was near at the moment. Then she would close her eyes and sit, very still. Her mind was bent backward and out of her memory the things that had happened. She was very careful in her marshalling of this particular parade. She omitted nothing. In every letter she received with that mark of the bank on the outside she forced there might be the wiping away of all the mystery of her noon, or perhaps, its explanation. She knew, although Eggleston had not encouraged her in this belief, that the explanation would come, some day. And, always, she wanted to be prepared for it. ECZEMA ITCHED
AND BURNEDOn Knees and Elbows.
Healed by Cuticura.

"I had eczema on my knees and elbows. It broke out in places and itched and burned something awful, causing me to scratch. I lost my rest at night in account of the irritation. I was so itchy I scratched it, often causing it to bleed."

"I tried several remedies without success. I then asked my druggist for Cuticura Soap and Glimmerine and sent for a free sample. I purchased some and after taking three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Mary E. Smith, 1100 W. 10th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

and bordered the paths that wound through pergolas heavy with fragrant climbers. Only the very rich, and of these only those whose whims were for splendor ever had braved the cost of a residence in the Villa Amette.

Yvonne once before had tenanted this palatial estate. Now it shamed it, at her suggestion, with Joanna. Yvonne and Joanna were inseparable and yet there had been few confidences between them. People had learned that to approach the Golden Girl they must win the favor of Yvonne Constant. And they wondered a great deal, because of this circumstance, of the two young maidens, the brides of the two brothers.

Yvonne, at the steps of a great doorway that opened onto the driveway. By the time she came out to him he was silent. Joanna's eyes danced when she saw his mood. He helped her mount, tossing her to her saddle, as easily as if she were a feather and they turned their horses into the road that either crossed the frontier and went on to San Remo along the sea, or led back to Monteone and Monaco.

"It's too late," Dominator grumbled, "for as long as I am on San Remo, I'll take the other way, down into the valley?"

"Well, I'll go," she assured him, "unless you decide, not to be glut. I want to be talked to this morning. I haven't any particularly engaging thoughts."

"I have," he answered shortly. "It's my thoughts I wanted to talk to you about this morning. Especially after that kiss."

"Are you going to remind me again of such foolish things as I may have said to you last night? If so I shall go straightaway back. You'll be around somewhere by now wanting my kiss."

She made no effort to turn, however, and they rode for a while, horse to horse, silently. Joanna, buoyant with her youth, took long breaths of the scented, late breeze that stole up from the sea. But when Dominator spoke, she let the sweep him with a quick glance.

A Rare Grandfather's Clock

Made in 1767 Workmanship is Superior Says Authority

With the date 1767 carved on its front panel, a rare old grandfather's clock has come into the possession of K. W. Wright, who as public trustee of the administration of the late George Gowland, of Newboro Township, who died on Nov. 10. The clock, which was made by Georgios Gowland, presumed to be an ancestor of the deceased, was examined by an authority on grandfather's clocks, who declared there was not a similar one or one of equal value on the continent. The whole construction was built on the principle of a grandfather's clock, which did not require any machinery, the mahogany case being finely carved, there being a set of ten dials on a face of unburnished brass, which note the hour, minutes, sun and sunset, moonrise and set the day of the week, the month of the year and a pointer which indicates the courses of the sun.

Would Revise Alphabet

So Words Could be Spelled With Fewer Letters

Revise the alphabet and save a billion dollars a year, was the suggestion given by Dr. Frank A. G. L. of the English Language Congress at Philadelphia.

The proposed alphabet includes twenty-four consonants, thirteen vowels, four diphthongs and a sign for the word "the."

By introduction of this new alphabet, the speaker said, fewer symbols would be needed to express a thought. Long words would be spelled with a few letters. Millions of tons less of print paper would be required, and huge sums would be saved in type composition.

Miracle Worker Was Genuinely a Miracle Worker

White Mario held the tiny flame before her Joanna held the crumpled wad of paper over it until her fingers were scalded and blistered. It took the candle stick. She reached for the paper ball had burned.凤鳴 who said to Mario take the sides away she stirred them into powder with her finger, as if she would run no risk of prying eyes seeking out a secret from the crumpled paper.

The other accounting sheet, which bore a long list of bills paid for her by the bank, she tossed into a drawer. Then she was out.

Villa Amette had long been one of the show places of the Riviera, a place of great magnificence, which nests in the sun-tropical foliage of the base of Cap Martin, a low, rambling house of balconies, trellised windows, and wide, stately verandahs. Its broad acres stretched back onto the slopes of the hill in tiered terraces that note themselves in groves of olive, orange and mimosa. Below was the dense blue Mediterranean. Gardens of pink blossoms, and squares of red and white roses overhanging the sea

Authenticity of Cave of Macphail Has Never Been Questioned

The interior of the cave of Macphail is in the tomb of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, was photographed for the first time not long ago. This burial ground of the old Biblical patriarchs, says a recent writer, is the most famous in the world. Its authenticity has never been questioned.

The Jews kept it as a holy place throughout the ages. The Christians gathered it, and when the Mohammedans conquered Palestine, turned the spot into a mosque.

As a sacred, in fact, the Christians

Caenarius built a candle-like church over the cave, and the Turks turned it into a mosque, which is still standing.

The Moslems regard the place as a holy place. Before the war the Christians who were permitted to enter it could be counted on the fingers of your hands.

One of the last to enter was the late King Edward when he visited the Holy Land in Prince of Wales.

Remarkable Engineering Feat Being Attempted in England

In Yorkshire, England, engineers are utilizing the waters of the Nidd to turn a valley into a large lake.

MAILING EARLIER.

The "Mail Early" urgings promulgated last year by the postoffice department met with a gratifying response. Though reasonable success was attained, the goal is set still higher for this year. "Mail Earlier" might be this year's slogan. The purpose is to relieve postal employees of the overwhelming last-minute rush of former years by distributing the handling of parcels over a longer period, entirely eliminating the peak of the load from Christmas itself. The "zero hour" has been advanced, it is announced. Rural carriers will make no deliveries on Christmas and city carriers will make one delivery on Christmas. It is recommended that Christmas parcels be mailed between December 10th and December 20th. It is urged also that Christmas cards be mailed early, lest they be not delivered until after the event.

The matter of delayed shopping and delayed mailing is mainly a habit. Some folks are constitutionally slow. To be beforehanded in any action is the exception rather than the rule. While it may be practically impossible to induce some to act early, if those who are amenable to suggestion do, the end is gained by having at least a part of the business out of the way before the procrastinating ones come along. Thus the congestion which might otherwise result is in some measure avoided. It would be easier to shop early and mail early than to delay until the crowds are greater, but habit causes some of us to put off a task as long as possible. It is the correction of a bad habit which the post office department is seeking.

Squibatorial

Do your Christmas thinking early and avoid the rush.

Woman's clothes are so funny, they are almost as funny as the men's.

A man seldom turns over a new leaf until the old one is all smeared.

Let us be thankful all the girls chewing gum are not chewing tobacco.

The millions of germs on money and in kisses never make a man refuse either.

A wise man knows he is acting foolish to fall in love this close to Christmas.

In gambling it isn't the first loss that is so expensive; it's getting it back.

Closed autos are the most popular in winter, while closed mouths are popular the year around.

Be not deceived. While Santa Claus has many agents hereabouts he has no genuine double.

New automobile licenses, income tax payment, Christmas. Isn't December the gay old moth?

The reformer should be patient with us. After all, the world's wickedness keeps him in a job.

And we can be thankful shoes are not like auto tires so we would have to sit down when we get a hole in them.

B. C. Sets Example.

British Columbia has reported a profit of a million and a half dollars from its liquor business during the past year, and is going to "split" with the municipalities. Not so, however, in the case of Alberta. This province has always found an excuse, good or bad, for keeping all the liquor profits unto itself, and adopts the attitude of "the country be hanged."

When the Alberta government sees the fairness of dividing the profit from the liquor traffic; motor licenses; theatre and amusement taxes, etc., etc., with the municipalities in which this revenue originates, then the Alberta government may truthfully claim to practice the slogan of "Co-operation." Under the present system, the co-operation is all one-sided.

British Columbia has set an example which Alberta's government might well follow.—Hanna Herald

Says Compensation
Board Autocratic.

Every week fresh evidence of dissatisfaction with the administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act is noticed in this district and it is probably true of the whole of the province. The board is charged with being the most autocratic body in the British Empire today, holding absolute power to grant or withhold compensation as they see fit. We believe this power is too great and if the Act cannot be administered more satisfactorily, it should be annulled. At heel it seems to be exceedingly difficult to obtain compensation.—Taber Times.

Change in Management of McLaren Lumber Co.

Mr. A. Greig and family arrived here on Monday from Ontario. Mr. Greig succeeds Mr. Harry Burns as local manager of the McLaren Lumber Company, and takes over his new duties this week end.

An Historic Conference

The Imperial Conference, which recently concluded its deliberations in London, marked the passing of another milestone in the history of the British Empire. In the importance of the conclusions unanimously arrived at the Conference is rightly regarded as a most momentous event in Empire relationships and in the development of constitutional self-government for the Overseas Dominions, and second only to that other historic occasion when the Dominions were admitted to the League of Nations on terms of equality with Great Britain and all foreign nations.

The Conference decisions, in some respects, even over-shadow in importance the entry of the Dominions into the League of Nations. The decisions reached are necessary to give full effect to the position of the Dominions as members of the League.

In some respects there is a tendency to unduly magnify the meaning and importance of the Conference decisions and to create the impression that it is a very pronounced step in the direction of complete independence of the Dominions and the breaking up of the Empire. In other quarters, the tendency is to belittle and minimize the work of the Conference as having, in effect, changed nothing. The true situation is to be found between these two extremes.

In numerous instances the Conference has merely given official recognition to policies and methods of procedure which have been followed in recent years as the self-governing powers of the Dominions have been developed from time to time, and as former methods have become obsolete. In other instances radical departures from past customs and procedure have been made, and difficult decisions so as to enable the Dominions to exercise rights and powers in a more effective manner, thus removing possibilities of misunderstanding and friction in the future.

The main achievement of the Conference has been in the direction of clarifying the relationship which the Dominions bear to each other and to Great Britain. In other words, a clear understanding has been reached on matters of vital domestic concern to the Empire. It has been definitely set down in black and white that, so far as the Empire itself is concerned, each self-governing unit occupies a position of equality with any and all other units. Absolute equality of status is established and Canada and the other Dominions now occupy exactly the same position within the Empire as does Great Britain itself. All recognize and render allegiance to the King.

A change is, therefore, made in the position occupied by the Governor-General. Henceforth the Governor-General will be also an agent of the British Government. In future he will be the Majesty's representative only, and will occupy the same position in relation to the administration of public affairs in the Dominion as is held by the King in Great Britain, but it is not a representative or agent of the Government of Great Britain. Formerly all communications between the Dominion Government and the Colonial Minister in the British Government. In future communication will be direct between Government and Government as equals.

In future, matters relating to Dominion affairs will be decided solely by the Dominion and the Royal Assent will be given or withheld, not by the advice of the Government of Great Britain, but on the advice of the Dominion Government.

The treaty-making powers of the Dominions, hitherto a moot and disputed point, have been clearly defined and no Dominion can enter into a treaty with another Dominion or with a foreign nation in the name of the Crown without the Government of Great Britain or of other Dominions being parties to it. Dominion plenipotentiaries for the negotiation and signing of treaties will do so under powers issued by the King on the advice of the Government concerned, rather than on the advice of the Government of Great Britain as has been the case in the past.

The right of the Dominions to appoint ambassadors or ministers to foreign governments is clearly established, and it is foreshadowed that the Dominions will maintain such ministers in London while the Government of Great Britain will send representatives to the Dominions just as it does to the rest of the world.

The right of the Dominions to participate in certain foreign legislation, hitherto in which Great Britain alone was concerned, is recognized. It remains to be seen, however, whether other nations will accept or recognize this purely domestic arrangement. Full autonomy in all things and absolute equality of status is established as within the Empire, but whether the international status of the Dominions has been altered remains to be seen. Nations go to war in the name of their ruler, whether King or President, and if the King of Great Britain is at war it is open to question whether he is at war on account of only a portion of his dominions or all of them. The enemy might refuse to recognize a piecemeal war. Therefore, when Great Britain is at war, Canada may also be at war even though she might be averse to it.

The consensus of the best thought throughout the world is that the decisions of the Imperial Conference have given greater solidarity and unity to the whole Empire; that the loyalty of the component parts to the whole will be intensified; that the British Commonwealth of Nations will be stronger than ever and a still greater factor in determining the peace and progress of all mankind.

A Powerful Searchlight

Forty Miles Away Newspaper Can Be Read by Its Light

A two-billion candle-power searchlight, the largest in the world, with an intensity eighty times as great as all the lights on New York city's "Great White Way," was shown to the public recently at the Electrical and Industrial Exposition in the Grand Central Palace, New York. So powerful is this searchlight that a man forty miles away could see to read his newspaper by it, and those operating the light can clearly discern objects at a distance of five or six miles.

No man knows what it is to be a woman, and puer to be glad of it.

May Open Calgary Stampede

Prince of Wales Will be Asked to Officiate at Annual Event

The Prince of Wales will be asked to officiate at the opening of the Calgary stampede July 5 next year. Word has been received that His Royal Highness will likely attend the annual jamboree in Ottawa July 1, and it is expected he will make a prolonged stay at his ranch near High River, Alta.

In England last year Major Webster asked the Prince of Wales to open the stampede that was held last year, but, while the Prince could not do so then, he said he would be glad if he was in Canada on stampede dates in 1927.

Royalty Attends Oxford

Arabia, Japan, and Siam Represented at Ancient University

Three royal families are represented at Oxford this year.

Heading the list is His Imperial Highness Chichibu, the second son of the Emperor of Japan. The prince occupies rooms in the Cloisters, near those occupied by the Prince of Wales as an undergraduate. He is studying history and economics under college tutelage.

Last week was caused by the arrival of the other two royal students, as they are both returning to Oxford after previous study. One is H. R. H. Prince Chumbut, Crown Prince of Siam, who is a student at Christ Church, and the other is Zainul Haq, the Emir of Iraq. In Arabia, where he is now studying in Balliol College, both are taking the regular courses.

Stomach Cramps Yield to "Nervine"

When doubled up in midgut with cramps, you feel like you are dying; what you want is something to remove the cramps. Nothing acts so effectively as Nervine. The twenty-five cent bottle of Nervine is the quietest as while the cramp is gone, Nervine is about "plain speaking" to the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, regarding their rights and wrongs. The King of England "should be ashamed" of having a population of "two millions" when it should be fifty millions. Ontario and Quebec, he continued, should remember that there were other parts of the Dominion, and should "play the game" so far as their problems were concerned.

One of the great problems of Western Canada, he stated, was the completion of the Hudson Bay railway, a project which, he said, would bring in coal and power resources of northern Manitoba as the Transkanan and Northern Ontario railway had proved to be in this province. The prosperity of Ontario and Quebec depended on the prosperity of Western Canada, and it was vital to the whole Dominion that this line be completed.

The TRIALS

OF MIDDLE AGE

Much of the Suffering Women Endure Can Be Avoided

Every woman approaches middle-age with considerable anxiety, because she knows that is the time of life when most ailments appear. The first signs of trouble are often the first signs of trouble, and the first signs to come. She fears the headaches, backaches, backaches and other discomforts, which are the first signs of the life of many women at this period.

Much of the anxiety and suffering that assail women approaching middle-age can be avoided, however, if approved by thousands of happy, virile women who have relied at that time on the help of Dr. William Milburn's Pink Pills for women's needs. Among those who have used them from this source is Mrs. Alan Wager, Echo Lake, Ont., who says:

"I was at a critical period in my life when I was weak and was in a great deal of pain. I had a much easier time than I was able to do, for under the use of this medicine I was restored to health and strength again. I am now a new woman. I never neglect an opportunity to recommend this remedy to those who are run-down for the sake of what the pills did for me."

Heart Palpitation Dizzy, Sinking Spells

Mr. M. A. Gagnon, Doaktown, Alta., writes: "Some time ago I was very nervous, could not sleep at night, often felt dizzy, and experienced a palpitation of the heart, and was run down. I could not do my housework, but just leave everything and sit down."

I spent a lot of money using medicine from a doctor, but it did not do me any good."

At last a friend told me to use and after using a couple of boxes I was not the same again. I began to feel so much better, and after a few more boxes I was in perfect health. I always recommend them to all who are suffering from heart trouble."

Plain Facts For The East

Major Webb of Winnipeg Addresses Toronto Audience on Hudson's Bay Railway

Speaking on "The Hudson Bay Railway and Immigration" to members of the Empire club at Toronto, Col. R. H. Webb, mayor of Winnipeg, indulged in what he called "plain speaking" to the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, regarding their rights and wrongs.

He said: "I am afraid the King of England 'should be ashamed' of having a population of 'two millions' when it should be fifty millions. Ontario and Quebec, he continued, should remember that there were other parts of the Dominion, and should 'play the game' so far as their problems were concerned."

"I am afraid the Hudson Bay railway was being opposed by the cry that Western Canada was a land only out fit for buffalo. The building of the T. and N. O. railway had opened up a vast section of rich land, yet that line had not been extended to James Bay because it was impossible from a naval point of view. On the other hand, Hudson Bay, he said, was open all the year round, and Fort Nelson would be an all-year seaport, which was more than could be said of Moncton."

Major Webb explained the great power possibilities of northern Manitoba, the wealth of pulpwood resources and the mineral deposits along the line of the Hudson Bay railway. "We want those resources developed," he said, "and we are going to develop them whether you like it or not."

Relinquishes Honor To Illinois Professor

Scientist Discovered New Chemical But Failed to Announce It

The new element, element 61, named Illinium, discovered three years ago by Dr. Luigi Illino, of the University of Florence, Italy, but he failed to announce it then.

Dr. Illino's discovery was accepted by the Congress of Scientists which met in Bologna, Italy. It named his element Illinium, in honor of the University of Illinois, and named his discovery Illinium in honor of the University and the state.

Dr. Illino now has agreed to relinquish all claim to its original discovery.

Dr. Hopkins and Dr. Rolla met at a convention of the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry at Washington University recently and reached an agreement on the original claim.

The two scientists had worked independently, each unaware of the others' investigations.

HON. R. LEMIEUX ELECTED SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

Ottawa.—Hon. Raphael Lemieux was elected Speaker of the Canadian Commons. He is the only speaker in Canadian history who has presided over Commons for three successive parliaments. He was nominated by Premier King and seconded by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative leader, opposed the election of Mr. Lemieux on the ground that the custom of having a Speaker's chair filled alternately by a French-Canadian and Anglo-Canadian would not be maintained during the regime of Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Sir Robert Borden, who, he said, were French-Canadians.

Mr. Lemieux, who is a French-Canadian, was, however, declared elected by the clerk of the House.

The election of the Speaker followed the ancient custom of the Commons being summoned to the Senate chamber where the deputy of the Governor-General sends them back to the Commons Chamber to elect a Speaker.

Mr. Guthrie said he had no objections personally to Mr. Lemieux or to his qualifications for the office, but considered that stronger reasons than those set out by Premier King in his speech should be given for departure from the old established custom in the Canadian Parliament of alternating between English and French Canadian speakers. The system of election of a speaker prevailing in the British Parliament was not followed in Canada.

In this country there was the system of dual languages and for this reason and in order that there would be no disparity between the English and French races, the practice had been followed from the time of Sir John A. Macdonald, of alternating the speakership between the two groups of predominating races in the country.

Robert Gardner (Progressive, Airdrie), supported the nomination of Mr. Lemieux as speaker. Mr. Lemieux, in his opinion, was particularly qualified.

H. S. White (Conservative, Mount Royal), said he also favored the nomination of Mr. Lemieux as speaker, and did so on personal grounds. Mr. White paid tribute to the qualifications of Mr. Lemieux.

Believes Five Day Week Is Practical

Would Make Workers More Efficient Says American Labor President

New York.—Labor is advocating the five-day work week for economic and humanitarian reasons, believing it is practical from the viewpoint of equalizing production and consumption and declare the worker will be more efficient with the added rest. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in an address before the New York Building Congress:

"The shorter work week is upon us and we will see it quite generally established in all lines of industry," he predicted.

British Labor Leader Urges General Elections

Renfrew MacDonald Moves Vote of Censure on Baldwin Government

London.—Former Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, in the House of Commons, moved a vote of censure on the Baldwin Government regarding its policy during the miners' dispute.

His motion was received with loud cheering and unanimous approval.

Mr. MacDonald declared the Government's policy had steadily alienated the confidence of the country and urged that a general election be held.

Premier Baldwin, replying, was greeted with hisses and shouts of "Mussolini" from Laborites, who were downed by cheers from the supporters of the Prime Minister. Mr. Baldwin said he would hold a general election in good time, but that he would not be intimidated by threats.

May Lift Titles Ban

South Africa Changes Attitude Regarding Last Year's Resolution

London.—The probability of South Africa lifting the ban on titles because of the new status reached by South Africa after the Imperial Conference is suggested in messages from Cape town.

Strong resolutions were passed a year ago against the bestowal of honors, but the attitude has now changed, according to these messages, because now South Africa is able to recommend directly to the king the names of the people on whom honors should be bestowed. Instead of making the recommendations through the government, the speaker said.

Apparently South Africa is very pleased with the Imperial Conference, the Nationalists even singing "God Save the King" at the end of their meetings.

Customs Probe at Coast Hears Some Strange Statements

Vancouver.—Material for melodrama was developed at sittings of the customs probe. There were mysterious code telegrams to which witnesses absolutely failed to furnish the key. There was talk of liquor running by automobile across the border with others of return cargo. There were details of claims and accounts and an item of many thousands labeled "forested funds." Finally there was evidence which indicated that it is a comparatively easy matter to smuggle goods from the United States into Canada as well as from Canada into the States across the international boundary line which runs between British Columbia and the American republic.

Monks Killed In Avalanche

Slide Caught Them When Out Reciting Rosary

Berne, Switzerland.—Three canons from the famous St. Bernard Monastery have been killed in an avalanche which overwhelmed them in the Alpine pass. The accident occurred while a party of ten religious brothers were making their regular rounds on skis to see if any travelers in the pass were in difficulty.

The avalanche came down upon them when they were a mile from the mountain. Five of the party escaped, but the other five were swept away. After strenuous efforts the five men were dug out, but three of them were found to be dead.

Toronto.—A decrease of more than six million dollars in the amount wagered at the various Ontario race tracks during the past season compared with 1925, is the latest report of the provincial treasurer. The total for this year is $27,121,216, whereas last year it was $32,498,145. A corresponding reduction is effected in the Government tax of 5 per cent, which this year amounted to $1,671,922, a loss of $361,312.

British Army Reduced

Done to Increase War Office Jobs Says Sir Lord Middleton

London.—The British army is two-thirds of its size, according to today's figures showing a decrease of 15,500 men as compared with the 1914 period, but the administrative staff of the war office is doubled.

These facts were brought out by Sir Lord Middleton during a debate in the House of Lords. He expressed alarm at the reduction when nations still are disposed to fly at each other's throats.

Delayed signings included thirty units of field and garrison artillery, with a total of 5,600 men; sixteen battalions of the line are gone; nine others are reduced; three regiments of cavalry are abolished, and others are reduced to skeleton size.

Referring to doubling of the administrative staff, Lord Middleton said: "It is midsummer madness to clip the army in order to maintain the war office."

Replying for the Government, Lord Hankey, under-secretary of the war office, defended the reduction policy, declaring that the strength of the army has not fallen below what is compatible with the present military services of the Empire. He admitted that the recruiting had not come up to the expectations of earlier estimates.

EMPIRE TIES NOW STRONGER THAN HAVE EVER BEEN

London. The question of international relations was raised in the House of Lords by Lord Parham, who urged that the question of the future flexible connection between the Dominions and the Mother Country ought not to be left undetermined.

The Earl of Balfour, Lord president of the council, who was chairman of the Imperial Conference premiers' committee on Empire relations, fully replied to the idea of a permanent separation.

He declared that the Empire was now a more united organization than ever before and was held together for more effectively by broad loyalty and common feeling of interest and devotion to the great world ideals of peace and freedom than by anything else. That was the bond of empire, he said, and should be.

Any difficulty that might arise with regard to the separate identity of each of the self-governing states in the Empire where all were equal, his lordship said, would be overcome in practice, as difficulties had been over come in Geneva in connection with European affairs.

Indications are that the fact that the council of the League of Nations is at present in session has exercised a positive influence on the Belgian government and other foreign ministers of the great powers who still worried they voice the belief that a averted.

HOPE TO AVERT SERIOUS TROUBLE IN THE BALKANS

Geneva.—"Don't get excited! Take it easy!"

This is the counsel of the government of Western Europe to Jugoslavia in connection with the strain put on the relations between Jugoslavia and Italy by reason of the King-Albania pact, which Belgrade deems the first step towards Albanian protectorate over Albania.

The Jugoslavia spokesman denied the Hungarian report that Jugoslavia would quit the League of Nations unless the League contracted cancellation of the treaty. On the contrary, he said, while his country regarded the pact as a violation of the spirit of the League covenant, it must, like others, await some definite act by Italy of a nature to destroy the territorial integrity of Albania before appealing to the League.

Would Study Market Conditions in Europe

Saskatchewan Livestock Pool Applies for Five-Day Flight Trip

Saskatoon.—Application for commercial assistance in sending a commission products in Europe has been made by the Saskatchewan Livestock Pool to the trustees of the Saskatchewan Agricultural Research foundation.

Representatives of the pool were in the City and waited upon the trustees in connection with the matter.

The pool has approached the trustees for a grant of $1,000 to help in the preparation of a commission to study the preexisting and marketing methods in Europe to advantage.

The Dominion and the Royal Assent will be given on the advice of the Government of Great Britain, but on the advice of the Dominion Government.

The right of making powers of the Dominions, hitherto a moot and disputed point, have been clearly defined and one Dominion can now enter into a treaty with another Dominion or with a foreign nation in the name of the Crown without the Governments of Great Britain or of other Dominions being parties to it. Dominion plenipotentiaries for the negotiation and signing of treaties will do so under powers issued by the King on the advice of the Government concerned, rather than on the advice of the Government of Great Britain as has been the case in the past.

The right of the Dominions to appoint ambassadors or ministers to foreign governments is clearly established, and it is foreshadowed that the Dominions will maintain such ministers in London while the Government of Great Britain will send representatives to the Dominions just as it does to foreign nations.

The right of the Dominions to participate or refrain from participating in wars in which Great Britain may become engaged is recognized. It remains to be seen, however, whether other nations will accept or recognize this purely domestic arrangement. Full autonomy in all things and absolute equality of status is established as within the Empire, but whether the international status of the Dominions has been altered remains to be seen. Nations go to war in the name of their ruler, whether King or President, and if the King of Great Britain is at war it is open to question whether he is at war on account of only a portion of his dominions or of all of them. The enemy might refuse to recognize a piecemeal war. Therefore, when Great Britain is at war, Canada may also be at war even though she might be averse to it.

The consensus of the best thought throughout the world is that the decisions of the Imperial Conference have given greater solidarity and unity to the whole Empire; that the loyalty of the component parts to the whole will be intensified; that the British Commonwealth of Nations will be stronger than ever and a still greater factor in determining the peace and progress of all mankind.
